Dear Formaldehyde Science Invited Expert Workshop Participants,

Thank you for participating in the Invited Expert Workshop to explore the science on formaldehyde carcinogenicity held on October 10 -11, 2017 at the UNC Friday Center in Chapel Hill, NC. We hope you found the workshop discussion informative as we work to improve the integration of the formaldehyde science to draw scientifically defensible conclusions regarding causality. Over the next few months we will be working to develop a manuscript summarizing the workshop discussion and will seek input from workshop attendees. In the meantime, below you will find some follow-up information from the workshop.

1. Attendee List - A copy of the final list of workshop participants is attached to this email.
2. Presentations - A copy of the presentations delivered during the workshop are attached to this email.
